IPC/ i2A is now accepting applications to award one (1) Research Scholarship (BI) within the scope of the project “TOGETHER - Vascular age as a key for a Team-based approach to manage blood pressure and cardiovascular risk between community pharmacists and Primary Health Care Centers”, reference THCS/0001/2023, funded by THCS initiative, co-funded by the EU, as follows:

Scientific area: Clinical Physiology.

- B. If the candidate holds a higher education degree obtained abroad, he/she must have the respective recognition of the degree, if applicable;
- C. Enrolment in a master's degree or in a non-academic degree course in Health Sciences or related field;
- D. Oral and written fluency in Portuguese and English.

Work Plan achievements:

Hypertension (HTN) is the leading cause of premature death and disability worldwide, and cardiovascular diseases related to HTN represent a significant burden for the healthcare system. Reducing the pressure that HTN represents through better equipped and integrated primary care, in close collaboration with non-medical health professionals, will increase the quality, efficiency and sustainability of health systems. Previous studies have conveyed surprisingly positive results in non-randomized feasibility projects, supporting the TOGETHER initiative as a provider of innovative pathways, investigating solutions in the context of a randomized study focused on blood pressure assessment (casual and outpatient) in community pharmacies. The project will implement these programs, combining them with the concept of Vascular Aging in the experimental group, safely enhancing their effect, and promoting effective coordination between community pharmacists and general practitioners. In this way, the central objective is to provide innovative patient pathways, uniting Community Pharmacies with Primary Care, and promoting better rates of blood pressure control. The complementary strengths, organizational configurations and main focus of Community Pharmacies and Primary Care will allow us to create new strategies for the identification and early intervention of HTN, ranging from lifestyle to medical treatment, taking into account social, economic and behavioral aspects.
